

My name is Jason A. Mills and I am an assistant principal at Pleasant Hill Middle School. The 2009-2010 school year marks my 13th year in Education. My first 9 years in education were spent as a social studies teacher and coach at Gilbert High School. From 2006-2008 I served as an AA at Lexington Middle School. In July of 2008, I moved to the same position here at Pleasant Hill Middle School. In June of 2009, I was promoted to an assistant principal's position at PHMS.

My duties at Pleasant Hill Middle include 8th grade discipline, Special Education, supervision of school and extracurricular activities, and ADEPT. I will also assist with some testing.

My wife Rebecca and I have been married for 7 years. Our oldest child Eliza, is 5 and attends pre-school @ Lexington Baptist Church. In June, 2008, our twins Samuel and Katherine turned one. Needless to say things have not slowed down since.

Outside of school, I enjoy Gamecock and Newberry College athletics, spending time with family & friends, and officiating. Our family is also very active in young adult and children's ministries at First Baptist Church of Columbia, SC. In January of 2009, I was also selected to serve as a deacon at FBC.

We are all here to serve our students, their families, and our community. If I can ever be of service, please don't hesitate to call. Our school number is 821-2700. My email address is Jmills@lexington1.net . Thanks for your support of Pleasant Hill Middle School.
